

The Voters To Say

Whether They Want Parking Meters Or Are Opposed

Petitions to bring the ordinance authorizing the installation of parking meters to a referendum vote of the citizens of Rockland are now ready for signing in several stores between Rankin Block and Gen. Berry Engine House.

The city ordinances provide for such action on the part of the voters with a total of 500 signers being required before the ordinance in question can go to referendum.

This is the first time that this right on the part of the citizens has been exercised. Two Main street business men, who do not care to have their names published, requested the petition forms of the City Clerk Tuesday and distributed them to other store owners for signatures.

One of these men stated that this action was prompted by the fact that the City Council was divided on the matter; voting three to two in passing the ordinance over the recommendations against it of the special traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Continuing, the same man stated that he believed that inasmuch as John Q. Public was going to foot the bill in the case of parking meters, he should have the opportunity to vote on their acceptance.

The petitions must be returned to the City Clerk, properly signed and

BUILDING NEW SUB-STATION

Central Maine Power Company Has Important New Unit Under Construction

The Central Maine Power Company has under construction a new sub-station to serve Rockland. It will be located on Upper Park street a short distance above the junction of New County road. This station, according to Division Manager H. P. Blodgett, is designed to take part of the load now on the Glen Cove station and to place the source of power nearer the Rockland users where there is an increasing demand for heavy power.

The station will be set up on a steel structure and not housed, as at Glen Cove. The main transmission lines have been tapped near the S. H. Doe farm on Old County road and the lines run across the fields back of Achorn cemetery, crossing Limerock street near the Peter Edwards farm and continuing to the Park street location.

sworn to by the person circulating the paper, within 20 days from the time the City Council passed the ordinance. A total of 500 signers are required by the charter—all of whom must be legal voters of Rockland.

Maximum Sentence

Awarded Deer Isle Man, But For Manslaughter Instead Of Murder

Isaiah Robbins, 33, received a 10 to 20-year State prison term in Superior Court at Ellsworth Wednesday when he pleaded guilty to the fatal shooting of his brother, Ralph, the night of Nov. 27 last year.

The original charge against the Deer Isle clam digger, was murder, but Attorney General Ralph W. Farris, after conference with County Attorney Edwin R. Smith, nolle prossed all elements of the indictments involving premeditation and suggested arraignment on the lesser charge.

In his address to the court before sentence, Percy T. Clarke, Robbins attorney appointed by the court, attributed Robbins' predicament to the environment in which he was brought up.

Clark said Robbins had been unable to complete work of the first grade because of eyesight impaired by measles, and described his mentality as "not high."

"There was no murder in his heart," declared Clarke, attributing the killing to an accidental discharge of Robbins' shotgun while attempting to unload. "It savored strongly of an accident. He later broke the gun as an expression of remorse."

In response to questions by Presiding Justice Merrill Robbins said he was born Jan. 15, 1914, son of Allan and Ethel Robbins, and was single. He admitted he could neither read nor write, and enumerated previous convictions on charges of intoxication and assault and battery, the latter some seven years ago.

"It is evident the respondent (Robbins) is a man of low mentality," declared the Court, "but no claim is made that he is not of sufficient mentality to know the difference between right and wrong,"—and on motion of Farris, Justice Merrill imposed the maximum term allowed under Maine law.

The shooting for which Robbins was arrested was believed to have occurred late afternoon or early evening when Robbins was returning from an admitted deer-jacking expedition. In a statement, he told officers he opened the door of his brother's shack and saw Ralph and his wife, Virginia, lying on the bed, although fully dressed except for their shoes.

He said his brother rose from the bed and advanced as though to meet him at the threshold, while he (Isaiah) started to jack the shell from the gun before entering. It was while doing this, he said, the gun went off, the buckshot pellets striking Ralph in the right shoulder where an artery was severed. He said he and Virginia assisted the stricken man nearly 200 feet

Blaisdell Leaving

Resigns As Principal of Rockland High School After 19 Years' Service

Joseph E. Blaisdell, principal of Rockland High School since 1928, has tendered his resignation to the School Board, and will go to Aroostook County in a similar capacity, if rumor is correct.

Mr. Blaisdell graduated from Belgrade High School in 1912, and four years later received his A. B. degree at Bates College.

He began his teaching career as principal of Solon High School in 1916-17, followed by four years' principalship at Belgrade High School and five years at Hallowell High School.

Nineteen years ago he became headmaster at Rockland High School, coming here with a very high recommendation from the State Commissioner of Education, A. O. Thomas. During his 35 years of teaching he has taught Science, Mathematics and Latin, continuing his studies at Columbia University Summer School from which he received his Master's degree.

He is a past president of the Maine Principals' Association.

Rockland High School under his direction has maintained a very high standard. His efforts to make it so have been unceasing, and his popularity with pupils and parents has been in a marked degree.

Aside from his educational work he has identified himself with every undertaking tending toward the city's welfare.

India has an anti-bigamy campaign.

MAY LOSE MANY TEACHERS

Lateness Of Budget Hearing Prevents Awarding Of Contracts At Normal Time

Rockland citizens in general and parents in particular, will be disturbed by a situation now existing which is a serious threat to local schools for 1947-48. Through operation of the city charter, which sets the budget year from July 1 to June 30 and calls for budget hearings prior to May 25, and expected around May 10, no funds for school purposes, including salaries, will be available until the date named.

This situation is extremely serious, due to the fact that teachers' contracts are customarily awarded during April, and available teachers are snapped up prior to May 1. The lack of authorization of funds by the City Council leaves the School Board unable to issue any teachers' contracts at present.

Not only could the uncertainty as to the amount to be allotted to schools by the Council have the possibility of causing some of Rockland's best teachers to go elsewhere, but it will render extremely difficult the securing of adequate teachers at the later date because the field will have been thoroughly screened for qualified men and women.

Some time ago, the School Board, in a series of meetings with the teachers, arrived at a salary scale mutually acceptable. It then sought to avoid the present situation through a tacit understanding or assurance as to the approximate amount to be approved by the Council for increases in teachers' salaries.

This a majority of the Council members felt they could not do, abiding strictly to the theory that the only fair way to have a budget was to have a budget, with no previous commitments, let the chips fall where they may.

In an effort to minimize any possible teacher losses, the School Board has contacted each teacher on the 1947-48 roll and sent each the following notice of election:

"The Superintendent of Schools informs you that it has voted to offer you a contract for the school year 1947-1948 in the amount of $ (amount). This is to be done as soon as, and if, the Committee can legally do so."

"Due to the fact that the budget has not been approved for said school year, the Committee asks that you bear with the situation until the municipal authorities make possible the issuance of your contract. The reason the School Committee cannot make binding commitments at this time is the fact that the Committee has no money raising power."

THE BLACK CAT

By The Roving Reporter

A Rockland merchant has a beard which is so hard to shave that his barber used to dread his coming. One day the barber's patience gave out, and when the would-be customer appeared the knight of the razor promptly handed him 40 cents and told him to go somewhere else to be shaved. What the would-be customer did was to go to his own home and tackle the job with a safety razor. And he kept it up for 25 years.

Harold J. Philbrook of Union street has done much scuffling in his time, and can find his way around in many foreign ports. "But the worst experience I ever had," he told the Black Cat yesterday, "was in Portland harbor, while I was in the Liberty ship, James Kearney. It was the night of May 11, two years ago. A sudden blizzard came on, tore the ship from its moorings and it would certainly have been driven onto the rocks if we had not landed against the Cushing's Island cable."

Just as the Grand Army flag flew at half-mast to denote the passing of a veteran, so the American Legion and V.P.W. flags fly today. History repeating itself—grim history.

Somebody in Bath must like the new parking meters, for the penny collections in the first 25 weeks amounted to $5,306.55.

I am glad to see that they are broadcasting the major league baseball games on Sundays. Why didn't the managers learn sooner that these radio returns are making new baseball fans every day. The constant growth of baseball attendance may be attributed to them in a very large measure.

Three Rotarians with untanned countenances were having a chuckle, fest on the street yesterday. The group comprised H. P. Blodgett, Elmer B. Crockett and Dr. A. W. Foss. Betcher they were talking about Florida.

Coffee drinkers, including several local addicts who consume from 10 to 30 cups each day, will be interested in the statement of the national Dairy Council which says: "If you want to do yourself a favor, put cream in your coffee, because the cream will give you a 40 percent better chance of avoiding coffee-induced ulcers."

Book Review

K. S. P.

"Champagne Cholly." Author, Eve Brown. Published by E. P. Dutton & Co., New York.

This book gives the life and times of Maury Paul. The real story is taken from the Hearst newspapers of those times and is woven with infinite skill into the social life of his date, as one of society's editors deluxe, finding out all the evil and mispent careers in that and other great cities.

Down through the speakeasy years, Maury Paul followed social events with close-up pictures, true at times and mostly so. Saloons come into this story with all the finess possible.

Marriage in those days was a simple preparation for another marriage to someone suiting the parties better.

Maury Paul rose to his place of power through a combination of audacity, insolence and charm. He had enough charm and personal magnetism to keep all social groups reading every word he wrote. And a Hearst writer in those days was tops.

His sharp-eyed and versatile brain, with a pen to match, has given the world a picture that will amuse, disgust and entertain a large class of today's social youth. Maury Paul was nicknamed "Champagne Cholly" and he had all the verve that sparkles in this wine. He was plump and deep-rooted as his size and form suggested, but for those of us who read, like literature without so much swearing. It is far from the best found today; and you know there are plenty of worthwhile books printed every month. This writer is worthy of higher class of picturing.

THE GREAT NATIONAL GAME

A few short of a quarter-million baseball fans witnessed the opening games of the two major leagues Tuesday, shattering the former opening record of 114,304, set in 1926. President Harry Truman pitched the first ball in Washington, and ex-President Herbert Hoover was among the spectators at the Philadelphia-Yankees game in New York. Congressmen, movie stars and other dignitaries from all walks of life saw the launching of what promises to be the greatest baseball season in history, in spite of the fact that the champions have apparently been picked far in advance. Baseball, however, is a game in which the unexpected often occurs, as it did on Tuesday when the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees fell victims to second division opponents. Unless there should be a radio strike it is going to be a happy Summer for all who go to the games and all who tune in.

PROVISIONS OF NEW LABOR BILL

We hear a great deal about the new labor bill, pending in Congress, but it is extremely doubtful if many of us could give a satisfactory explanation of it. For those who do not take the pains to delve too deeply into a mass of detail here is what the new bill provides:

1. Outlaw the closed shop; permit the union shop.
2. Ban industry-wide bargaining, with a few exceptions.
3. Prohibit mass picketing and violence in picketing.
4. Set up "unfair" labor practices for unions as well as employers.
5. Provide for government action to avert or stop strikes threatening the national welfare for a limited time.
6. Make unions punishable for violating contracts.
7. Guarantee employers free speech on labor matters.
8. Outlaw jurisdictional and various other kinds of specific strikes.
9. Ban secondary boycotts.
10. Abolish the present National Labor Relations Board.
11. Create a new labor-management relations board that would hear and judge complaints of unfair labor practices.
12. Set up an independent administrator to investigate and prosecute unfair practice cases.

DEFENDS POTATO DUMPING

The dumping of potatoes in Arrostock County has occasioned so much criticism that we have wondered what, if anything, might be said in defense of it. And the answer came when Albert K. Gardner, Commissioner of Agriculture, and former Rockland man, told the Auburn Kiwanis Club that the dumping of the tremendous surplus potato crop was almost unavoidable. "I don't see how anything else could have been done," he declared. Outlining the reasons for the bumper crop, Gardner said the powerful insecticide DDT was probably most responsible. He pointed out that the actual acreage planted was the smallest in 18 years. Despite this, a surplus of about 100 million bushels was on hand last Fall. The Commissioner said the Federal Government had planned to export the excess spuds to Europe's hungry peoples, but this move was stymied by the maritime strike. In January, orders came to destroy the crop, rotting in open fields and inadequate storage sheds. The official stated that perhaps half the bumper crop could have been transported to Europe if the Government had anticipated the surplus in time to institute plans for an adequate export program.

EDITORIAL BRIEFLETS

In the boyhood days of us oldsters the great book to read was "Around the World in 80 Days"—a fantastic dream of the French novelist, Jules Verne. Giving him the laugh today is the new record set this week by the Reynolds Bombshell which circumnavigated the globe in 78 (not days, but hours) and 55 1/2 minutes.

At last a political candidate has had the boldness to put in appearance—Representative Nathaniel M. Haskell, a Portland attorney, who decides to be speaker of the House in 1949. Meanwhile it is not about time to hear from some candidate for Governor, Congressman and U. S. Senator?

We are watching with a great deal of interest the rapid progress which is being made on the Farnsworth Memorial at the corner of Main and Elm streets. And greedily enough we are all hoping that hammers will soon be sounding on the opposite corner—Main and Spring streets.

Two-Ton Tony Ouellette To Defend His New Title Tonight

The sensational newly crowned heavyweight champ, Tony Ouellette will make his initial appearance in the Rockland ring tonight, against a very capable and experienced opponent, Dave White, in a 10-round main bout. White has plenty of punching power in both his right and left. He has also defeated every opponent that Ouellette has met and downed. White comes from Harpswell, and should prove to be a tough opponent for Two Ton Ouellette.

The six-round semi-final will bring together Bud Labbe of Lewiston and Al Wooster of Frankfort, which is sure to bring plenty of action.

Paul Martin of Lewiston against Kid McCoy of Brunswick will be the top preliminary four-round bout, and Don Peppin of Lewiston and Young Goupil of Bath, will be another four-round bout.

The opener which is scheduled to start at 8:30 p. m. will bring together Ted Raymond of Auburn against Roland Beaulieu of Brunswick.

Got Two Letters

Rockland Boy Wins 'Em In Football and Basketball At M. C. I.

One Rockland student was among the 21 boys at Maine Central Institute to receive two letters when awards were made for the Fall and Winter sports seasons. Leroy E. Peasley, 40 Rankin street, received the varsity "M" in football and basketball from Director of Athletics Roderic L. Smith in a special athletic assembly held at the school.

Peasley turned in fine work for Head Coach Paul W. Legge in the Preppers' backfield last Fall and performed brilliantly for the same coach in the center spot on the MCI varsity basketball quintet last Winter. He had the distinction of being the only MCI player to receive an All-Tournament berth as a result of his play in the annual State Preparatory School Basketball Tournament at Orono recently.

Peasley graduated from Morse High School in 1946. His education at that school was interrupted from 1943 to 1946, when he served for three years in the USMC, with 20 months of overseas service to his credit. At Morse High he was an outstanding athlete, winning three letters each in football and basketball.

His activities at Morse were not confined to athletics, as he served as president of his class as a Sophomore and as president of the Student Council as a junior. He is attending MCI in preparation for admittance to the University of Maine.

Tuesday Night's "Show" Not Conducive To Continuance Of The Sport

There were wrestling fans in this area two weeks ago—there were wrestling fans Tuesday—there may be a few left today, but they have not yet been dyed in the wool sports enthusiasts who full well know the fake tosses, twists and groans of the trade and still like it for the show the contestants put on.

Tuesday night, even the referee was in the act and got a "movie hero" clip on the chin a few times from the supposedly irate wrestlers. The first match went to LaClerc in one fall in 20 minutes.

The second match went to Ivan Braun in two falls out of three; the first on a foul when Germaine hit him before he could climb into the ring after having felled out during the antics. The second fall somewhat resembled wrestling when Braun dropped Germaine with what is termed a dropkick.

The women's match went to Hilda after a borsome 26 minutes of hair pulling, wrapping one another's necks up in the too slack ring ropes, pulling off the referee's shirt and other playful antics to entertain the cash customers.

Legislation to prevent drinking in public places received the endorsement of the Maine Sheriffs' Association meeting in Hallowell Wednesday. Ray S. Foster of Denysville, president said. Gov. Hildreth urged the bill following a meeting with the association in the Maine House several weeks ago when the sheriffs told him a law was needed to curb drinking on public highways and at dance halls. The measure received its first reading in the Senate Wednesday following acceptance of a favorable committee report. Sheriff C. Earl Ludwick attended the meeting in Hallowell.

Mrs. Ada W. State Patrolman Tripp Cites Radio Achievements At Thomaston Station

A certificate of membership was issued at Wednesday's meeting to another new recruit—Austin Nelson, and key member pins were awarded to Almon Cooper, Jr., Arthur Jordan and Nathan Berlawsky.

It was announced that six members are to attend the district convention in Saint John, N. B.; also that the Eastern Monday ball netted $4.75.

The Sea Scout committee for the coming year will comprise Wilbur Senter, Almon Cooper, Jr., J. N. Southard, Dr. Blake Annis, Leon White and Dr. Luther Bickmore.

Clem Smith of the Camden Rockport Club and Dr. R. J. Meehan of Rockland were visitors.

Fred Tripp of the Maine State Police force admitted that he was new to the art of public speaking, but proceeded to give a highly interesting account of the Radio Communication System which is in operation at the Thomaston Barracks.

The system was first established in 1940 and was found to be a great boon to the service, which had previously been wholly dependent upon the telegraph and telephone.

The system has been greatly improved and enlarged since its installation, and some of the present equipment, which has become obsolete, is being replaced.

The service covers most of the State Police routes, and strangely enough, brings in New Mexico and Arizona under favorable conditions.

Patrolman Tripp enumerated several cases where the Thomaston station had been the means of apprehending law violators, and with a promptness which made his audience gasp.

The meeting for April 30 has been cancelled because of the joint meeting to be held the succeeding night.

HOPE

Maurice Wentworth has returned to his work in Columbus, Ohio, after a short visit with relatives and friends here and in Appleton.

Richard Hay of Portsmouth, N. H., was in town over the week-end.

P. A. Jones made a short visit last Friday at his Hatchet Mountain Camps to see if any winter damage needed repairing before opening the camp in June.

Mr. and Mrs. Linwood Redmarker and family went Monday to Adison where they have bought a house and blueberry land. They sold their home here to Mr. and Mrs. David E. Brown who will occupy it the first of May.

John Wilson, Jr., went Monday to Washington, D. C., recalled temporarily by the War Department to carry on a line of work in which he was particularly successful during his European Theatre of War activities.

Tax Collections

City Manager Farnsworth Explains Why They're Behind Last Year

The report of the City Manager, given to the City Council Monday night, that the city income in March through taxes shrunk alarmingly from the total of the same month the preceding year. March of 1946 showed total collections of $8,883 with this year dropping to a total of less than one-half that figure—$3,761 to be exact.

On April 1, 1946, there remained an uncollected total of $3,395. This year on April 1, there remained a balance of $15,164 uncollected.

Farnsworth's explains the situation thus: "While this is not a large difference, yet it may be significant in showing the trend of collections. This amount is made up mostly of small amounts and represents a large number of taxpayers, who are beginning now to find it difficult to pay their taxes along with the high cost of all daily necessities."

Ralph Wyllie

Ralph Wyllie, whose death occurred recently was born Oct. 15, 1874 and was one of ten children of John Edmund and Sarah Cushing Wyllie.

He lived his entire life on the farm of his father and grandfather, the old homestead at Oyster River. In 1900 he was married to Frances Buckett of Thomaston who survives him.

They had two daughters, Mrs. Lawrence Leach of Rockland and Mrs. Ronald Messer, who with her husband cared for him lovingly and faithfully in his long, painful illness. His three grand-children are Jeanne Leach, Dale and Tobey Lee Messer. His brothers and sisters living are Harry Wyllie of Warren, Alban Wyllie of Belfast; Mrs. Lester Sherman of Rockland, Mary E. Wyllie, Mrs. Robert Walker, Mrs. Nathaniel Andrews of Thomaston and Mrs. William Robinson. His half-brother, was Tieston Wyllie, late of Thomaston and his half-sister Edith E. Wyllie also deceased.

While very young, Mr. Wyllie took over the milk route of his father and for more than 50 years he missed hardly a day of rain or sunshine, mud or deep drifts of snow. Always he and his faithful horse got through to Thomaston with the milk. To all his customers he was a cheerful friend and to some he seemed a real member of their families. Every child greeted him and rode with him and every dog followed him, sure of a friendly word. His family, his farm and his work were his very life and he was loyal to them all.

In the coming days in Summer residents will miss a sound heard for many years across the fields at sundown, the cheery voice of Ralph Wyllie, calling his cattle home.

Funeral services were held at the Simmons Funeral Home with Rev. Lynn Farnsworth of Camden officiating.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN

Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

During her stay in town, Miss Moore was guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Headley.

Baptist Men's League

Members Thrilled By the Andean Adventures of Captain Wincapaw

A tale of adventure in the Andes Mountains and the jungles of Bolivia was told last night to a breathless audience representing the Baptist Men's League. The speaker was the veteran airman William H. Wincapaw, Sr. who flew gold in Bolivia and Ecuador for several seasons, and who underwent their fair share of uncomfortable and perilous experiences. Wincapaw was introduced by Stuart C. Burgess.

Reaching the isolated sections of Bolivia is accomplished by train, plane and mule pack. Wincapaw's destination was La Paz, which is located on the Western range of the Andes, 13,400 feet above sea level. The speaker told of a lake 150 miles long and 50 miles wide, 15,000 feet above the sea level, where the natives use boats manufactured from woven grass, but where ocean-going steamships also ply. The trout there are so large that the Indians are actually afraid of them. Numbered among what Wincapaw considered the "seven wonders of the world" were one of the largest sand deserts, a solid lake of salt, a lake which is the resort of flamingoes, an active volcano and wild ostriches.

The beasts of burden are mules, llamas and alpacas, which can carry limited loads, because of the high elevation. Condors, with a wing measurement of 14 feet from tip to tip, constitute a menace to air-planes and have been known to knock off wings.

The native Indians were described as dirty and lazy, but Wincapaw made friends with them and it paid dividends. They will do unlimited work for a few gasoline cans, which they use in various ways about the household.

Wincapaw built an airport in the jungle with the aid of wheelbarrows, tri-motored fours, carrying one and one-half tons were flown. Gold is so plentiful in the rivers running down the Andes Mountains that the miner can get two or three grams a day. Heavy rains cause the rivers to rise as high as 40 feet. Snakes are plentiful and friendly, as the speaker found when he awoke one morning to find an 8-footer lying across his feet. Some of them are deadly, traveling in pairs, and persons bitten by them last only about 18 minutes. A bull snake kills cattle.

Other uncomfortable neighbors include black ants, wild bulls and wild boars. Wincapaw's life was saved once because he was able to navigate a large tree when pursued by wild boars.

The black ants are sometimes an inch and a quarter long. Ant trees are infested by red ants. Unfaithful wives are sometimes tied to the trees, and the ants leave nothing but bones.

Wincapaw carried medical supplies and once saved the life of a young Indian girl. But for a while it was thought she was going to die and he escaped the Indians' wrath by leaving on a mule in the night. But when the girl survived the happy Indians did everything in their power for the American.

Malignant malaria rages in the Andes and Wincapaw aided many Indians who seemed beyond help. Eighteen planes were lost in the attempt to negotiate the Andes. Wincapaw flew at a height of 25,000 feet in order to make sure of clearing a peak which was 23,000 feet high.

The speaker told of his experiences in an Ecuador earthquake. He was attending a movie performance at the time, and for a time was thought to have lost his life. E. L. Brown, Elmer B. Crockett and Herman Hart were appointed a nominating committee to report at the May meeting, which will be a ladies' night.

Grange Is Opposed

To Any Increase In Gasoline Tax—What State Master Favors

In a letter to members of the 93rd Legislature, E. Carroll Bean, Master of the Maine State Grange, reiterated Grange opposition to "any increase whatsoever in the gasoline tax" and proposed that the Legislature appoint an interim commission to make a thorough study of the State's highway needs.

"We believe that the present Legislature of Maine could render an inestimable service to the State by authorizing the appointment of a special interim commission made up of legislators, representatives of highway user organizations, and representatives of the Highway Department to make an overall study of the highway needs of the State, based on the findings of the Maine State-wide highway planning survey," Mr. Bean wrote.

"The Federal Government and the State of Maine have already spent over half a million dollars on this survey which included a road inventory, traffic counts and a financial study. In spite of the fact that most of the data and approximately 90 percent of the job has been completed, no long-range highway plan has been forthcoming."

"An interim commission would correlate and analyze the data now collected and would make recommendations at a special session of the Legislature, or the next legislative session, as to ways and means of financing a long-range highway construction plan based on the ability of the taxpayers of Maine to pay for the costs."

Citing greatly increased collections from gasoline taxes and registration fees at existing rates, Mr. Bean expressed the belief that "if proper economy is employed" Federal Aid highway allocations "can be matched out of current highway funds."

Enoch Squires To Address Father and Son Banquet Here Tonight

Enoch Squires, one time hobo, now writer and broadcaster, addresses the Rotary Club's Father and Sons banquet in Masonic Temple tonight.

Some years ago, while engaged in doing a commentary series over WHAM in Rochester, N. Y., Mr. Squires interviewed a resident of that city who had traveled to Maine to look up the homes of his ancestors.

He mentioned that one of his forebears was a sea captain who lived on a hill. In due time the old salt built a home for each of his seven sons, on the same hill.

As Mr. Squires recalls it, the place mentioned was "Rockland, Me." He wonders if this is the proper setting, and whether you can shed any light on the story.

of the following message from its founder, Rev. William J. Day:

"I am giving you a surprise, I am sure, by telling you that the 15th of this month I shall be leaving Arlington, Mass., for good and all. I am going to New York State to spend my last earthly days with relatives by marriage. "I shall be too far away to have any personal contact with the Men's League of Rockland, of which I am very proud. May I say to you that I shall keep you in mind, and pray that God will continue to bless you richly in numbers and in service. My address will be: Rev. William J. Day, Brainard, N. Y."

Cleanly Camden

What the Civic-Minded Citizens Are Doing—Payson's Questions

Believing that cleanliness like charity "begins at home" Camden's two Clean-up Weeks, from April 14 through 26, started Monday with Percy Luce, Clean-up Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce and President "Bill" Kelley, with an assist from Adjutant "Doug" Kelley of the Legion, cleaning up the Winter's accumulation of debris from the C. C. Cabin porch and grounds.

The Village Green also got the leaves and sticks combed out of its grass on Monday, and the Town Landing and Conway Boulevard location and triangle on Upper Elm are scheduled for a Spring beauty treatment by the town crews.

Tuesday and Wednesday, the town trucks picked up several loads of inflammable rubbish during the snow by street collection.

The Snow Bowl area is having one of the most outstanding Spring cleanings in this vicinity with Forrest Merrill doing a fine job, not only in cleaning up the grounds, but getting wood out for next Winter's fires, in the Lodge House fireplaces and stove.

A survey of the stores shows a plentiful supply of rakes, baskets, brooms and carts available this year.

Business is rushing at the Town Dump these days, but the custodian, Burnside Richards, is taking care of it in his usual efficient manner. Incidentally, for newcomers to Camden, the Town Dump is the first road to the right driving east on Limerock street.

Camden residents have always taken considerable pride in the cleanliness and neatness of their town, and much raking, sweeping and painting is in evidence this week.

For persons interested in checking fire hazards in connection with their clean-up activities, Fire Chief Allen Payson, chairman of the Chamber's Fire Prevention Committee, gives the following list of questions:

1. Have accumulations of rubbish, paper or other combustible materials been removed at any time this Spring or during the Clean-up Campaign? (a) cellars; (b) closets; (c) halls or under stairs; (d) attics; (e) garage; (f) back yard.

2. Are ashes and rubbish kept in metal cans or containers.

3. Do any chimneys in your house smoke or seem to be dirty?

4. Has rubbish in your yard been burned or disposed of?

5. Has your house been painted recently or are you planning to have it painted?

6. Have the shrubbery and trees been trimmed and dead leaves removed?

7. Have your porches and steps been repaired?

8. Where is the fire alarm box nearest your house?

9. Is the insulation worn on any electric cords or wiring?

G. I. Insurance

National Service Life Insurance Term policies may be converted to three kinds of endowment policies: 20-year Endowment, Endowment at age 60, and Endowment at age 65, in addition to the plans of ordinary (whole) Life, 20-payment Life, and 30-payment Life.

Endowments mature for the face amount of the insurance at the maturity date. For example, an endowment at age 65 for $10,000 provides that in the event of your death prior to age 65, the $10,000 is paid in one lump sum or in monthly installments to whomever you may designate as beneficiary.

If, however, you are still living at 65, then the $10,000 will be paid to you in cash (or in deferred payments, if you desire).

Thus you have in an endowment an investment plan in which you may make regular periodic savings and investments during the whole or your working lifetime, so that you may have the necessities of life when you can no longer work.

On endowments you may discontinue your plan at any time after the year and receive a proportionately paid-up estate.

The advantage of saving your money in an endowment is that in the event you do not live long enough to complete your payments, your family gets what you had intended to save. Another advantage is that no matter what financial difficulty you may get yourself into, the money you have saved in any plan of National Service Life Insurance is not subject to attachment, levy, or seizure.

The State has "a double obligation" to teach the effects of alcohol, Rep. Pelce of Augusta, said "because the State is in the liquor business."

The Senate passed to second reading a bill to prohibit drinking of liquor in public places. Senator George B. Morrill, Jr., of Windham, sponsor, said the Maine Sheriff's Association, State police and many church groups wanted such a measure to aid enforcement of liquor laws.

The Senate refused by a vote of 22 to 6, to approve legislation banning billboards within 500 feet of all highways. The Senate insisted that the measure remain in its original form—banning such advertising signs along the new Kittery-Portland turnpike only. The House last week amended the bill to extend the prohibition against billboards to all highways.

The measure now returns to the House. If the House insists on retaining the amendment the bill will die.

State Legislature

House of Representatives Wednesday voted 80 to 66 for emergency legislation increasing by two cents the State's 4-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax to provide for a $10,000,000 "pay-as-you-go" highway program in the highway program in the next two years. The vote was on acceptance of the unanimous favorable report of the Taxation Committee.

Disagreeing sharply with the Senate, the House Wednesday disapproved legislation requiring scientific alcohol education in Maine's elementary and secondary schools. The House accepted an education committee unfavorable report, while the Senate recently substituted the bill for the report. The report said the proposal was "covered by existing legislation."

Rep. Charles E. Lord of Camden, a member of the education committee, who moved acceptance of the unfavorable report, said the bill "would not accomplish the purpose any more than it is being accomplished now."

Rep. Walter E. Russell of Gorham, also a committee-member, asserted "we don't need the law, but better living up to the law we now have."

In support of the measure, Rep. Williams of Auburn, said "there is no such instruction worthy of the name now." He asserted there were now "more and more" cases of teenage intoxication.

The State had "a double obligation" to teach the effects of alcohol, Rep. Pelce of Augusta, said "because the State is in the liquor business."

The Senate passed to second reading a bill to prohibit drinking of liquor in public places. Senator George B. Morrill, Jr., of Windham, sponsor, said the Maine Sheriff's Association, State police and many church groups wanted such a measure to aid enforcement of liquor laws.

The measure now returns to the House. If the House insists on retaining the amendment the bill will die.

Opposing the House-amended bill as "unfair" to the bill-board industry, Senator Edward B. Denny, Jr. of Damariscotta suggested—but to action was taken—that a new amendment prohibiting future erection of billboards within 500 feet from highways and giving owners of billboards now standing five years to move them.

Gov. Hildreth has signed 45 bills, one of which would permit 15 of Maine's 16 counties to spend $5000 a year for advertising their "natural resources, advantages and attractions." The money would be expended under direction of the county commission.

Other major bills signed would appropriate $7000 to match Federal funds for a mapping of Maine; relieve Maine State Guard officers of the responsibility and monetary liability for uniforms and equipment issued them during the war; bar—with some exceptions—granting of hotel, restaurant or club liquor licenses to premises within 300 feet of a school, school dormitory or church except to those premises in use as hotels or clubs July 24, 1937; ban impersonation as a liquor inspector.

Require that hotels desiring liquor licenses must serve meals morning, afternoon and evening and maintain a certain number of rooms on a population basis; authorize the State Personnel Board to appoint an advisory council including representatives of the Governor's office, and other departments, Executive Council, the Senate and House, employees' association, the Legislative Budget Committee, and the public.

ANNE LAURIE MERRILL

Mrs. Anne L. Merrill died at her home at Morse's Corner, Thomaston, Tuesday, April 8. She was born in Rockland, Nov. 1, 1880, daughter of the late George and Lucy Davis Campbell. Her childhood was spent mostly in Rockland where her father lived on Limerock street and was long engaged in the business of hauling lumber from the quarries to the mills.

She attended the city schools and graduated from the Rockland High School in 1899 or thereabouts. She was married to Hanson G. Merrill, who died in 1924. Most of Mrs. Merrill's life was spent in Thomaston, and much of it at Morse's Corner.

She is survived by two children—a son, Herbert L. Merrill, with whom she made her home; and a daughter, Mrs. Albert C. Brown of Thomaston; two granddaughters, Miss Virginia Merrill of Belfast and Mrs. Francis Haraden of Rockland; and a great grandson, Douglas Haraden.

There was a daughter who died in infancy and a son Ralph I. Merrill who was killed in a trolley accident near Oakland Park many years ago. Another tragedy that saddened her later years was the death of her grandson Sgt. Hanson Douglas Merrill at New Caledonia in November, 1943, while in the service of his country.

The funeral was held Friday, April 10, Rev. Dr. Flagg officiating. The interment was in Thomaston. Mrs. Merrill was a kind, upright woman and a very good neighbor. She deserved and had the respect and affection of all who knew her best.

The Rockland concert will include selections from the works of Schubert, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Handel, and Victor Herbert. James G. Selwood, director of the group has recently received permission to use some of the music from Rogers and Hammerstein's "Carousel." This will also be included in the Rockland program.

Fullers Are Home

Make Nine-Day Trip From Florida To See the Sights

Donald H. Fuller, who has been spending the Winter season in Florida since 1938, arrived home with Mrs. Fuller, Wednesday, and offered the interesting information that the weather was better there up to the last of January than it had been for any of his previous seasons in the Everglades State. Reports which reached the North concerning the damage done to the citrus crops were highly exaggerated.

The orange crop is smaller than last year's, to be sure, but this year's hurricanes. The cold weather, regarding which so much has been heard in the North, has had the effect of retarding the blossoming period, which is backward by almost two months. Low fruit prices prevail.

Though Miami is but six miles away from Coral Gables, where the Fullers have the Winter home, Don was not in the Florida metropolis for a period of three months due in part in the scarcity of parking facilities. Miami has parking meters, and likes them very much. Mr. Fuller looks for a recession in prices the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller came home by a roundabout route, and instead of making the motor trip on the 1300-mile basis, the mileage was 2400.

They visited Atlanta, Ga., for the purpose of seeing the famous cyclorama in Grant's Park. It is located on the site of the battle of Atlanta, which the cyclorama depicts in amazing style.

The next stop of special interest was at Chattanooga, Tenn., where they went with the expectation of visiting Lookout Mountain, from whose summit seven States are visible. The rainy weather prevented this treat, however.

The Battle of Gettysburg called for a day's visit.

The travelers were baseball hungry by the time they reached Boston, and they stopped at the Hub long enough to see the Red Sox eke out a 7 to 6 victory over the Washington Senators.

The trip North occupied nine days, and they reached Rockland after an absence of six months, plus one day.

Mr. Fuller was a bit disgusted to find Maine motorists using paper automobile plates for 1947—paper plates at that. Maine, he says, is the only State in the Union which doesn't have new auto plates this year.

Gardiner Choral Society Wins Approval of Thomaston Audience

The Gardiner Choral Society, Samuel Freeman directing, gave a satisfying rendition of the oratorio, "Elijah" by Mendelssohn, condensed to concert proportions Tuesday night at the Thomaston Baptist Church, complimenting the Choral Society.

SERMONETTE

VICTORY

David, the King, had it in his heart to build a house for his God and had made ready for the building, but God told him he should not do it "because thou hast been a man of war and has shed blood." So David chose his son, Solomon, to carry out the great work.

He cautioned Solomon, "The Lord hath chosen thee to build an house for the sanctuary, he strong and do it." Now David had provided mightily for the building of the great temple, but over and above all he gave his private fortune and called upon all the princes of Israel, and captains and rulers and the people to do likewise.

And they gave willingly and with perfect heart. Wherefore David stood before the entire congregation and said, "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory."

When the church of which I am a member, chose me as church leader of the World Mission Crusade, to raise $7000 "over and above" the budget requirements and benevolences, it seemed almost impossible. So weak are men, I am sure if we could have signed off for the allotment, we would gladly have done so. Yet all around us other churches were surpassing their allotments.

We have no men of great wealth now in the church. Nevertheless, individual earning capacity was never greater. Feb. 16 was Immanuel's day of sacrifice, and after lunch the workers went out into the bitter cold on the planned canvass. The hours of worry and sleepless nights for pastor and leaders were all behind. Now all that could be done was to wait.

In just a week the congregation, as in David's day, "willingly and with perfect heart" raised $10,000 and were $3000 over the allotment. It was an unique campaign for it was entirely for the hungry, stricken peoples of the world, unseen and unknown. "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory."

—William A. Holman.

PLANS AT A STANDSTILL

And It Is Possible That New Through Highway May Not Be Built

Plans for the new through highway from New County road to Camden street over Broadway and Birch streets are at a standstill at present with a possibility that it may never be built.
A petition is now in the hands of the State Highway Commission, signed by 18 residents of Broadway, and supported by the City of Rockland Planning Commission, which protests the proposed Broadway route. It is understood that no especial reason for the protest was given in the petition.

The Planning Commission has proposed an alternate course which would allow the new road to leave New County road at about the same location as the one first proposed; near Pleasant street junction. This road would, according to the recommendations of the Planning Commission, run west of Broadway and east of Old County road, and enter Camden street at or near the original proposed location.

According to city maps, the new route would follow closely the present Camden & Rockland Water Company main water line to Thomson aston over at least a part of its route.

Owners of farm land over which the road might pass, although they have registered no official complaint or issued a petition against it, are understood to be ready to protest the dividing of their farms by the highway and the possible removal of valuable farm buildings.

The building of the road would not cost the city anything, according to City Manager Farnsworth, as the cost is borne by the State and Federal governments under the Urban Highway Act passed by Congress and administered by the Public Roads Administration. Rockland is believed to be the only community on the coast, East of Bath which can qualify for such a project.

A total of $71,000 has been allocated for the project by the Federal government which with other expenditures necessary by the State might bring the total cost to the neighborhood of $150,000.

With the route going over Broadway, Rockland it is said would at least be able to boast of one modern paved street running from boundary to boundary which could support heavy vehicular traffic without breaking down each Winter at a constant annual cost to the taxpayers, and still be close to the business section to allow travelers to come into the city to shop if they wished.

Should the protest of the Broadway residents be heeded by the State Highway Commission — and the expected protests of the farm owners, too — traffic would doubtless continue over Broadway as it now does under the Route 1 by-pass set up some years ago.
